PREVENT VISION LOSS

with a RetinaVue Eye Exam

Vision loss caused by diabetic retinopathy is one of several conditions that needs close surveillance. In fact, 95 percent of vision loss due to diabetic retinopathy can be prevented with early detection.

The Countdown to Control program offers the world's most advanced hand held retinal camera to detect early signs of the disease. This breakthrough device enables us to perform a dilated eye exam in just a few minutes rather than spending an hour or more at the optometrist's office. There are no drops and no waiting period for the eyes to dilate. You can come in, have your eyes examined and go about your day without the blurry vision caused by dilation drops.

These exclusive benefits are available with no out-of-pocket cost to employees and dependents diagnosed with diabetes that are enrolled in CentraState's Health Plan. Results will be shared with your Primary Care Physician so they know you have completed this essential test.

Call CentraState's Diabetes Center at 732.294.2574 to arrange for your RetinaVue Eye Exam and other Countdown to Control services.
